Democratic Chairman Rebukes Hansbrough for Speech Charging Hoover
With Being Oil Baron.

SENATOR RENEWS
HIS ALLEGATIONS

Dakota Regrets Effort
To Make Him Appear Slandering But Stands by His First Declaration.

New York, October 11.—(United News.)—John J. Raskob, chairman of the democratic national committee,
issued a formal statement here tonight
severely criticizing former Republican Senator Henry C. Hansbrough, head of the Smith Independent league,
for his speech in Minneapolis Wednesday linking Herbert Hoover with Latin-American oil concessions.

Raskob disclaimed any responsibility for Hansbrough's speech, which brought a vigorous denial of Hoover's connection with any Latin-American oil concessions from the republican national committee.

"I regret it a great deal," Raskob
said. "There is absolutely no truth in the charge. It is a great pity that Senator Hansbrough should have made the charge."

"I had sent Senator Hansbrough a telegram advising him that the facts
were untrue and asked that he refrain from delivering it. I was advised that he was to make the speech.
I learned of it through the organization."

Raskob said Hansbrough had not been routed through the democratic national committee's speakers' bureau,
and that he has not been scheduled to make any addresses for the bureau in the future.

"Any attempt to vilify a candidate for the high office of president of the United States is a low form of politics," Raskob said. "It is fair to attack the candidate's record and views.
This is entirely proper."

"The country is in a sorry state when two men contending for the highest office within the gift of the American people are subjected to indignities of slander of this kind and charges of all kinds which are untrue
and without the slightest foundation."

HANSBROUGH RENEWS
OIL ALLEGATIONS

Washington, October 11.—(United News.)—Former Senator Henry C.
Hansbrough sent a telegraphic statement to the United News tonight from Minneapolis saying he regretted excessively the criticism of his Wednesday speech at Minneapolis by Chairman Raskob, of the democratic national committee, but reiterating
his charge that Herbert Hoover is connected with Latin American oil concessions.

Hansbrough's telegram to the United News follows:

"I regret exceedingly Mr. Raskob's hasty attack on me. The statements and charges I made are true. The evidence sustains them."

"I especially regret comparing my charges against Mr. Hoover to the charges against Mr. Raskob."

Educator Is Elected Commander; S. E. Conny
Named Chef De Chemin
De Fer of 40-8.

San Antonio, Texas, October 14.—
(P)—An Indiana educator, Paul V.
McNutt, today was elected national commander of the American Legion
at the final session of the organization's tenth annual convention here.

McNutt, dean of the law school of Indiana university at Bloomington, succeeds Edward E. Spafford, of New York city, retiring commander.

The Hoosier candidate won on the third ballot, the break coming when Captain John D. Ewing, Shreveport, La., newspaper publisher, who led on the second ballot, withdrew in favor of McNutt.

When it was apparent that more than a majority had been rolled up for McNutt his election was made unanimously on motion from the floor.

Prominent Educator.
The new commander is national executive committee member of the legion for Indiana. When he was selected to lead the Indiana university law school in May, 1925, he attained the distinction of being the youngest member of the Indiana faculty ever to be made a dean.

McNutt is 37 years old. While he was state commander the Indiana department broke all previous membership records, perfected its internal organization and took a firmly established place among the "Big Ten"
departments of the legion in the United States.

In the war McNutt was commissioned a captain of field artillery at the close of the second training camp
at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. His discharge he was promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel. He is a colonel in the officers' reserve corps
and commander of the 22nd field artillery. He also is vice president of the national reserves organization.

McNutt is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national college honorary scholarship fraternity.

Five regional vice commanders were elected: E. L. White, Westville, Conn.; Lawrence McGaughey, Chicago; George Malone, Reno, Nev.; Miller C. Foster, Spartanburg, S. C.;
and Walton D. Hood, San Antonio.

Rabbi Hermann Deck, of Pottsville,
Pa., was named national chaplain.

The executive committee unanimously voted to keep the present official roster within its jurisdiction
intact, in a brief and decisive meeting today.

Commander Paul V. McNutt, elected less than a year before, took the chair and reappointed James F. Barton, national adjutant. The committee unanimously approved his appointment.

In quick succession other elective officers were named and elected. They are: Bowman Elder, of Indiana, treasurer; Elan Putnam, of Massachusetts, historian; and Scott W. Lucas, of Illinois, judge advocate.

S. E. (Chick) Conny, Fargo, N. D., today was elected chef de chemin de fer, or national president of the "40
and 8," honor society of the legion.

The following vice presidents or chef
de chemin de fer were named: G. E.
Love, Eugene, Ore.; Everett Johnson, Arizona; M. Albee, Sioux City, Iowa; George Haas, Louisville, Ky.;
Peter Doonan, Oklahoma; and George Perry, Maine.

The new national treasurer, or commissary intendante nationale, is J. Carl Neilsen, Gishbar, Wash.; E. "Snapper" Ingram, Los Angeles, Calif.; elected conducteur nationale: Ray Runne, Missouri; and B. L. Faison,
Texarkana, Ark., guardes de la porte;
Ather Joseph Longman, Rockford,
Ill., armonia nationale; and Joe Liles,

Arbery, Washington, was reappointed

and Draws Ovation.

Governor Smith's Train En Route to Tennessee, October 11.—(P)— Hailed by large and enthusiastic crowds in nearly a dozen cities and towns along the route of his special train, Governor Smith today invaded Virginia and North Carolina and brought those traditionally democratic
"solid south" states the first personal campaign appeal of a presidential candidate of that party in more than 30 years.

Making his second campaign tour
in his fight for the nation's highest office, Governor Smith was given tumultuous welcomes by crowds along the way and in many places hands
blared forth the tunes of "Dixie," and
"The Sidewalks of New York."

Two Longest Stops.
At the capitals of the two states,
Richmond and Raleigh, the candidate made his longest stops, staying for more than an hour at each city. Wearing his famous brown derby, the gov-
itals and headed long automobile processions through crowded streets to visit the state houses. At the Virginia capital Governor Smith made the first impromptu speech of the trip. Introduced by Governor Harry Flood Byrd
as "the next president of the United States," the candidate expressed his gratitude for the "enthusiasm and affection shown" by the Virginia people.

Tomorrow Governor Smith will carry his presidential fight into new political sector, the border state of Tennessee, where he will make two stops
of an hour or more at Chattanooga
and Nashville, the state capital. During the trip between the Tennessee cities he will be carried by rail in a brief incursion into the "solid south,"
touching a town or two in Alabama.
Saturday he will invade another border state—Kentucky—where he will make the first formal speech of his trip and the seventh of his campaign at Louisville.

Leaving Raleigh late today after a reception at the capital, Governor Smith's schedule called for brief halts
at his train at four other North Carolina cities.

ROAD BOARD ASKS
OPINION BY NAPIER

Department To Seek Attorney General's Ruling
On Excessive State-Aid
Mileage Decision.

Ruling on the status of the additional state highway mileage in excess of the 6,300 miles authorized by the legislature will be asked of the attorney general by the state highway board in view of the decision of the state supreme court that the highway board cannot exceed the 6,300-mile limit, it was announced Thursday at the highway board offices.

In an official statement the highway board said "concerning the decision of the supreme court about new mileage, the state highway board has no intention to give to the papers until an opinion is obtained from the attorney-general relative to certain matters which we have asked him about the additional mileage. We wish to assure the public that the law will be conformed to in accordance with the decision of the supreme court."

Attorney-General George M. Napier Thursday afternoon said that he was reading the decision, but would not comment on it.

LUTHER H. STILL BURNED BY BLAST

Luther Still, member of the Georgia legislature from Fulton county,
was burned today and left the hospital after receiving first aid treatment. The fire damage in the building was said to be slight, due to the quick response of the fire department.

Just how the varnish remover exploded was not known, but it was believed that it was the result of spontaneous combustion. Mr. Still was waiting in the corridor at the elevator door when the fire broke out.

Lexington, Va., October 11.—(P)— Dr. Henry Louis Smith, president of Washington and Lee university since 1912, today tendered his resignation to the board of trustees. The board unanimously elected Dr. George R.
Denny, president of the University of Alabama, to succeed Dr. Smith.
The resignation will be effective July 1, 1929.

Dr. Denny was formerly president of Washington and Lee university.

Charges, Upon Conviction, Would Net Former Treasurer From 34 to 119 Years.

BOND OF $850,000
SEEN FOR PRISONER

Proposed Indictment Will Cover Deals With Banks
in Which Treasurer Kept Money He Obtained.

The Fulton county grand jury will be asked to return 14 new indictments against Clinton S. Carnes, increase his bond to $850,000 and bring the former Baptist mission board treasurer
into court facing charges which, upon conviction, would net him a term of from 34 to 119 years in the penitentiary, which to a man of Carnes' age would mean life.

This was announced late Thursday
by Solicitor-General John A. Boykin
after all-day conferences with his assistants and the local managers of Ernst & Ernst, auditors employed by the mission board to check the Carnes accounts.

"We hope to get the majority of the Carnes charges before the grand jury tomorrow," Mr. Boykin said. "We are certain of 14 indictments and as the auditors have not yet completed their long task I expect to get evidence later than will result in additional indictments."

The true bills which the grand jury will be asked to authorize were being prepared Thursday night by Assistant Solicitor Ed Stephens, who with former Governor Clifford Walker is assisting Mr. Boykin in the handling of the Carnes case.

The indictments are to be returned today will cover a number of deals with banks which Carnes is alleged to have transacted without informing his employing board and the proceeds of which he is alleged to have converted to his own accounts.

"We are going to get the majority of the Carnes charges before the grand jury
tomorrow," Mr. Stephens said. "All of these charges are being developed from the work of the auditors. In some instances the banks could not supply the cash and in its stead sent bonds and other securities
to Carnes which he sold for their market value
and applied the proceeds to his own uses."

Under $150,000 Bonds.
Carnes is in Fulton tower, already having been indicted three times for alleged peculations directly from the treasury of the mission board. The bond in each case has been set at $50,000, making a total of $150,000
in all, which, to the knowledge of authorities, is a small sum for a man of Carnes' position and the magnitude of the charges against him.

On the return trip from Winnie-peg, where he was captured two weeks ago by the police of that city, Carnes declared that he would "have no trouble" in making good.
However, he has not made the bond and the solicitor's office hopes
by tonight to have a "muddy deluge
of literature and propaganda" before the grand jury to lead the people astray from their traditions of religious freedom.

He singled out Mabel Walker Wil-brandt, assistant attorney general, for criticism, asserting that her speeches
had "rightly shocked the country."

"Public opinion," he said, "waits with eagerness for a rebuke of her action by her official superior, the president of the United States or the candidate in whose name she speaks."

"It is not that she, as an officer of the government, should speak for prohibition or against it, but that she should urge upon church councils and clergymen that they use their clerical influence to muster all their members in support of a given party or its candidate."

"God forbid that we should ever allow religious bodies divided along political lines that we should ever see any political party dominated by any religious sect or denomination or that the clergy of any church should ever attempt, or succeed in the attempt when made, to lead its membership
into any political fold."

Speaks As "Protestant."
Mr. Davis said he spoke as a "Protestant and a citizen" and not in terms of votes. Governor Smith, he pointed out, proclaimed that he did not seek the vote of a Catholic because he was of that faith.

"The issues," he asserted, "go far beyond the candidates or parties in the present campaign. It transcends the question whether this nation can endure part slave and part free; five-sixths made up of those whose religion
prohibits no barrier to political progress and one-sixth of those excluded by their faith from the highest service to the state."

Because the constitution was silent
the long debate over slavery was ended by four years of bloody war.
The constitution has spoken on religious liberty and proclaimed it throughout the land. There should be no debate."

He reviewed the history of religious freedom in the United States and the inclusion of a declaration against a religious test for public office in the constitution.

"It is a rare piece of historic justice," he asserted, "that a Catholic and a Quaker should be contending this season will have been set."

New York, October 11.—(P)—John W. Davis, democratic presidential candidate in 1924, called upon the American people in an address broadcast tonight over a nation-wide radio hookup
to remain true to the nation's birthright of religious liberty and civic equality.

He denounced the statement that a

MRS. DANIEL O'DAY

Former Georgia Woman, Prominent in Democr-

State in Behalf of Smith

Mrs. Daniel O'Day, former Georgia woman and now a resident of Rye, N.
Y., will return to her native state in behalf of the presidential candidacy of Governor Alfred E. Smith, when she will speak at the city auditorium some time between October 26 and 30, it was learned here Thursday.

Her first Georgia engagement probably will be in Atlanta, but she will be in the state from then until October 30 and it is expected that she will speak in several other large state cities. Her itinerary had not been definitely announced by the women's speaker bureau late Thursday night.

Prominent in Politics.
Mrs. O'Day has been prominent for several years in New York state politics, as was her husband, the late Daniel O'Day, an oil magnate, who died about 15 years ago. She was the vice-chairman of the New York delegation to the Houston convention and for the past several weeks has been speaking in several states under the auspices of the women's speakers bureau of the national democratic committee.

Mrs. O'Day is known to many friends in Atlanta as well as in New York as a woman of charming personality and is reputed to be remarkably gifted as an orator. She has long been a friend and admirer of New York's "Happy Warrior."

As Miss Carrie Love Goodwin, she spent her girlhood in Savannah and went to Lucy Cobb institute at Athens, where she was a classmate and close friend of Mrs. Robert L. Foreman and Mrs. Wilmer Moore.

After the completion of her academic work here she went to Europe to pursue the study of art, in which she was gifted. While in Paris as an art student she met Daniel O'Day, young and successful oil operator and financier. They were married in the French metropolis and returned to make their home in New York.

Mrs. O'Day has visited here and in Savannah frequently since her marriage and numbers many well known Atlantians among her friends. Her most recent visit to Atlanta was about a year ago, when she stopped here for a short time while on the way to Warm Springs, Ga., to be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

DIRIGIBLE TAKES SOUTHERN ROUTE;
ENCOUNTERS WIND

Speed Is Reduced to 50 Miles Per Hour But Good Weather Is Promised for Trip.

EXPECTED TO REACH
NEW YORK SUNDAY

Lapse of Nine Hours Without Communication Creates Apprehension.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

The Graf Zeppelin, giant dirigible, late Thursday night was believed to be heading southwestward down the southern coast of Spain, toward Gibraltar, with adverse winds cutting its speed to below 50 miles an hour
on its trans-Atlantic voyage from Germany to the United States.

Maintaining the rate of speed exhibited in the stretch between Barcelona and Tarragona, the dirigible might hope to reach the Strait of Gibraltar about dawn or 1 or 2 a. m.
eastern standard time, just less than 24 hours after its departure from Friedrichshafen.

From Gibraltar it was indicated the Zeppelin would pass out to the open Atlantic, probably choosing a southerly route to Lakehurst, N. J., where it expects to arrive some time Sunday morning. It is expected to pass south of the Azores and probably will not be sighted there.

So far as could be ascertained all efforts to get in touch Thursday night
with the Zeppelin by means of radio had failed and there was little hope of its being reported again on its way to Gibraltar, unless possibly at Valencia.

"I expect to reach New York Sunday morning," said Dr. Hugo Eckener, the ship's commander, just before his departure. The last weather report timed 2 a. m., speak of heavy storms.
Under these circumstances, of course,
it is impossible to determine the exact route in advance. In general, however, I can say we will stick to the southern course, flying over France and then heading southward to avoid a depression which is moving to and fro between Newfoundland and Ireland. The northern route is out of the question."

Two Are Convicted And One Acquitted On Prohi Charges

Two men were convicted on charges of violating prohibition laws and one acquitted in United States district court, Judge Sibley, Thursday.

Marvin Phillips, of Coweta county, was tried and found guilty of possessing whisky, manufacturing whisky and having property for manufacturing it and sentenced to three months in the county jail. The sentence was deferred for 30 days on posting of $300 bond.

Hill McElwain, also of Coweta county, drew a three-months' sentence on being found guilty of making whisky and having property designed for making whisky. His sentence likewise was deferred for 30 days when he posted $300 bond. Lewis Calhoun, of Coweta, was acquitted on a similar charge.

RUTHERFORD ASSAILS REPUBLICAN RECORD

"Look Before Leaping," Is Warning to Party
Dodgers.

Macon, Ga., October 11.—(AP)—Congressman Sam Rutherford, of Forsyth, Ga., in accepting the nomination of his party from the Sixth Georgia district, here today for a second term, vigorously assailed the republican administration of the last eight years to its corruption and appealed to those voters of Georgia who are "about to desert the good old democratic party" to "look before they leap."

The convention unanimously affirmed its allegiance to the principles of the national democratic party, endorsed the platform adopted at the Houston convention and pledged support to its nominees, R. L. Dickey, of Crawford county, president.

"During the eight years of the administration of Woodrow Wilson," Mr. Rutherford pointed out, "not a single appointee was found disloyal or dishonest."

Mr. Rutherford enumerated items of recent corruption and referred to the appointment of the cabinet, some of whom later were found to be crooks.

"The democratic party has always stood for honest government," said Mr. Rutherford. "More helpful and sound legislation was passed during the two years of the Wilson administration than was ever passed by republican party in all of its history."

NORMAN, WEEKES ADDRESS MEETING OF CREDIT LEADERS

The monthly meeting of the Atlanta Association of Credit Men was held Thursday night at the Chamber of Commerce cafe, with nearly 100 of Atlanta's leading credit men in attendance. The program was in charge of W. C. Lovejoy, of the Fulton Bank & Cotton Mills, a past president of the association.

R. C. Norman, state tax commissioner, was the chief speaker of the evening, discussing taxation needs in Georgia. John Wesley Weekes, representative from DeKalb county, gave a talk on the subject of the credit man's interest in legislation.

A short talk was made on "Fire Prevention" by E. H. Rowland, supervising engineer of the Travelers Insurance company. Attractive musical numbers were rendered.

DIRECTORS CHOSEN AT ANNUAL MEET OF BIBB MFG. CO.

Macon, Ga., October 11.—(AP)—All members of the board of directors of the Bibb Manufacturing company were selected at the annual meeting of stockholders here today, and William D. Anderson, Jr., vice president, was added to the directorate to fill the vacancy caused by the death of H. Weber, of Savannah.

THOMAS ASKS SMITH ABOUT NEGRO VIEWS

Socialist Nominee Wants
Governor To Talk on Dry
Law in South.

New York, October 11.—(AP)—The socialist national campaign committee today made public a telegram which Norman Thomas, socialist candidate for president, sent to Governor Smith.

The message, directed to the democratic presidential candidate at Charlotte, N. C., said:

"On my recent trip south I discovered that certain simple questions interest the people in that section as they interest people everywhere. They are questions which Herbert Hoover evaded. I discussed them frankly. In the interest of a genuinely educational campaign I respectfully urge you to answer them."

"1. Will you explain more fully your plan for regulating transmission of power which may be generated at government owned and operated plants? Whom will you appoint to office to make the contracts of which you speak?"

"2. If our remaining water power sites are God given resources, what about coal, oil, copper, etc.? What plan have you for them?"

"3. You have properly criticized Coolidge's imperialism in Nicaragua. Will you tell the south and the country what you think of Wilson's imperialism in Haiti, Santo Domingo and elsewhere? Will you withdraw the marines from Nicaragua and Haiti?"

"4. You have spoken plainly on religious bigotry. What about racial bigotry? Do you approve the constant attacks in the south on Mr. Hoover based on his abandonment of segregation in his department? Do you approve of the Texas rule of your party which excluded from its primaries all negroes, no matter what may be their color in his department?"

"5. What do you think of the plea of many prominent southern democrats that the electors vote for you in order more rigorously to enforce the eighteenth amendment without modification?"

HOOVER'S ABILITY
LAUDED BY MELLONNominee Would Carry on Constructive Policies, Radio Audience Told.

Washington, October 11.—(AP)—Hailing Herbert Hoover as a far-seeing and resolute executive, Andrew W. Mellon told a radio audience tonight that the republican presidential candidate is well qualified to carry on the "constructive" policies of the present administration.

Delivering into the microphone at station WRC here the second political speech of his life, the veteran treasury secretary said that in the final analysis there is only one issue in this campaign—"whether the leadership offered by the republican or by the democratic party is better qualified to assume the burden of carrying on the government and of solving the problems which will arise in the next four years."

Points to G. O. P. Record.
"The democratic candidate has told you what he proposed to do," Mellon said. "The republican candidate, Mr. Hoover, is in the fortunate position of being able to tell you not only what he will do but what he and the administration of which he has been an important part, have already done. He offers you an unparalleled record of constructive achievement; and, on that record, he and the republican party ask for your continued confidence and support."

"What has that record been? In the first place, it has been a complete fulfillment of the promise which the republican party made that the government should be administered economically and in accord with accepted business principles, and that the affairs of the country should be put on a sound basis, so that confidence might return and the march of progress might be resumed after the long interval of the war."

Tax Reduction Cited.
Going into details of what he described as "administration accomplishments," Mellon said that taxes had been removed from two and one-half million citizens with total reductions of eighteen hundred million dollars; that great reductions had been made in government expenditures; that the public debt had been reduced over six billions of dollars and that the eleven billion dollars of foreign debts had been settled.

"There are three other things which should be mentioned in connection with the government's financial policies. The war claims against Germany and Austria have been settled in a way satisfactory to those nations as well as to ourselves; the loans made to our railroads during the war have been nearly all repaid; and the charter of the federal reserve banks have been renewed, thus insuring a con-

SMITH RECEPTION
IN SOUTH IS CITED
BY PAT HARRISON

New York, October 11.—(AP)—Senator Pat Harrison, southern member of the democratic national committee's advisory committee, said today that Governor Smith's campaign trip into the southern and border states had shown already "the absurdity of republican hopes of making inroads on the 'solid south.'"

"From the first report of Governor Smith's southern tour," he said, "it is evident that the banners of Dixie have never been flown more proudly. There never has been any doubt about the south except in the propaganda department of the republican headquarters."

"There were more people at any one of the two-minute stops to greet the governor, with only a few hours' notice, than greeted Mr. Hoover in the republican settlement of Elizabethton after weeks of concentrated effort."

ANNUITANTS GET
ABOUT $734 EACH
FROM U. S. FUND

Washington, October 11.—(AP)—Annuitants numbering 15,383 are drawing income from the civil service retirement and disability fund and during the last fiscal year received approximately $11,000,000, an average of about $734 each.

The interior department compiled figures which show that of the retired civil service employees 12,173 are inactive because of age and 3,210 because of disability. There are 3,302 persons drawing the maximum annuity of $909.96 a year.

The fund is obtained through deductions from the salaries of government employees and during the past fiscal year amounted to more than $26,000,000. Despite disbursements a balance, remaining after payments over a number of years, of $83,000,000 remains in the fund.

More of the annuitants live in the District of Columbia than in any state, and most of them are 80 years and older, some claiming to be more than 100 years old.

Shot by 'Lover,'
Now on 'Gang,' Girl Weds Rival

Mrs. Louise Padgett, of 504 Fowler street, who was shot by her fiancé, Robert Holloway, on the night of July 31, Tuesday was married to Archie Hagan, in Marietta, it was learned Thursday. Her ex-fiance is serving time for shooting her.

On the night of the shooting, Mrs. Padgett was riding in an automobile in company with another couple when they quarreled over the alleged attentions of another man to Mrs. Padgett. Demanding that the driver stop the car Holloway is alleged to have gotten out, dragged the young woman after him and shot her.

Shortly before Holloway's trial it was reported that the wounded woman wanted to marry her assailant, despite his wrongs. Solicitor Boykin, fearing an attempt to thwart justice, prevented the couple from seeing each other by forbidding Mrs. Padgett to visit the jail.

Her ardent seemingly cooled after her one-time sweetheart had been sent to the chancery, the young woman wedded Hagan. The couple now is honeymooning in Florida, according to the girl's mother.

ANGLO-AMERICAN
PRESS ASSOCIATION
EXPELS H. HORAN

Paris, October 11.—(AP)—Harold Horan, correspondent of the New York American, who was requested to leave France by the French authorities because of his connection with the publication of a French diplomatic memorandum on the Anglo-French naval accord, was expelled from membership in the Anglo-American Press association today by a committee which investigated the case.

The association previously had requested the French authorities to postpone Horan's expulsion until the matter could be threshed out. The reason given by the committee for expelling him from the press association was that he was "on various counts guilty of unprofessional conduct."

Horan left Paris by automobile last night for England by way of Belgium. Brussels dispatches said that he had arrived there today and called at the American embassy.

We are satisfied—because you are satisfied.

We have widened our circle of friends—unbelievably, for so short a time—during the ten weeks in which we have engaged in the selling of the beautiful furniture which we bought at private sale and sold at prices so small that you have thought them impossible at Philibosian's.

That is because you have believed Philibosian's furniture to be high priced. We are gratified to have had the opportunity to demonstrate the contrary.

THERE IS NOTHING SUDDEN OR TEMPORARY ABOUT OUR PRICES

They have always been the lowest possible for the high quality and desirableness of the grade of furniture we sell.

We buy furniture and rugs at lowest prices always—oftentimes at a very great price advantage.

WE SELL IT FOR CASH—also at a great advantage—hence the selling price is small.

—Our method is really quite simple.

CHATTAHOOCHEE SOLON LAUDS SMITH'S PARTY

Dr. Charles Howard, Jr., Tells Why He Is Supporting Nominees.

Feeling that the voters of Chat-tahoocchee county may be interested in his views on the presidential race, Dr.
Charles Howard, Jr., who has represented that county in the state assembly without opposition since 1923,
has written a strong article stating why he is supporting the nominees
of the democratic party.

"If I have any influence at all it is only local," says Dr. Howard in a letter to the democratic campaign
headquarters for Georgia in Atlanta,
with which he encloses his article.
"The democratic party is facing another great crisis in its history," writes Dr. Howard in opening his argument, which continues as follows:

"If we should be defeated by our enemies we can console ourselves with the assurance that we made a good fight and in spite of defeat we can keep our self respect and gird our loins
for another effort four years from
now. Those of us who love Senator George may still hope to see him president next time.

"But if Smith should be defeated
by the aid of our own democrats; if some of our good democrats in their zeal for prohibition should force the issue of federal prohibition upon us
now, it will tear the party to shreds
in Georgia and it will become an issue
in every state and county election for 20 years.

"It is not the purpose of this letter
to discuss the merits of prohibition.
Our very best democrats are divided on the question of federal interference with the rights of the states to regulate our own affairs.

"A great majority of the democrats in Georgia are united on the issue of state prohibition, as is evidenced by the fact that we have enacted an absolutely 'bone dry law'.

"It looks like bad politics for the prohibitionists to force this issue upon the party now. There is so little to gain and so much to lose.

"Our democratic speakers are making long speeches discussing party principles, and reading them to listening in on the radio. It may be worth while in those states where there is a big independent vote, but it is a waste of time in Georgia, where we have had best confine ourselves to a plea for party loyalty.

"That is the purpose of this letter.
I want to appeal to my fellow democrats in my own county and perhaps in my own congressional district to vote the whole ticket.

"You and I know what shameful conditions existed when we had two parties a few years ago.
"At that time party principles were at issue. Some of our very best democrats grew impatient at the apparent delay of bringing about the perfection of local self-government.
They did not go to the republican party but organized the populist party
and declared in their platform for the very essence of self-government—the referendum. They wanted all important questions referred to the people.

"And after all the criticism of Governor Smith's position on the issue of federal prohibition, he simply proposes to leave it to the voters of the different states.

"It may be true that it is a little extreme in his advocacy of states' rights. He may be a little old-fashioned in his democracy, but many of our fathers and grandfathers, if they lived now, would be in perfect accord with his views.

"But let us not discuss that. Let us simply agree to disagree on the issue of Volsteadism and religion.
"Let us remember what good the democratic party has done. The author of the eighteenth amendment is a democrat and the author of our state law is a democrat and the democratic party passed the law.

"Governor Smith happens to be our nominee for president and our standing prohibitionist is the nominee
for the next highest office in the country. Mr. Robinson will preside over the deliberations of the senate. If you vote against Smith you will have to vote against Robinson. Are the prohibitionists willing to crucify the vice president on the altar of their opposition to Smith?

"I am for Governor Smith because he was the choice of a majority of our delegates to the Houston convention.
"If Senator George had been the choice of the convention and all the democrats who favored Smith had bolted the convention and joined themselves to the republican party, they would have questioned their democracy.

"It would have destroyed the democratic party. I can understand the viewpoint of a democrat who might scratch the name of a candidate because of some personal objection to him.

"I can understand why he might wish to register a protest to that extent.
"But when a man votes the republican ticket for president he can never again make me believe in his democracy. He may be a good man, but he may be a good prohibitionist. But he is not a good democrat."

Better Than Whiskey For Colds and Flu

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirin, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested,
approved and most enthusiastically
endorsed by the highest authorities,
and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whisky,
rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk 60c for a bottle of Aspirin and tell him to serve you two teaspoonful. With your watch in your hand, take the drink
at one swallow, and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms
of your cold fading away like a dream,
within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspirin is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults.

The time has come, in America, at least, when the man or woman without specific training is terribly handicapped. Recently a college girl, having spent several months looking for a position in a business office, said:
"In spite of my $4,000 degree, my scholarship pin and my achievements in debate, I am regarded in the business world as no much raw material." This is not said in disparagement of college training, because we believe in higher education most thoroughly, but the fact is, the graduate of a general college course is no better prepared to secure a position in a business office than is a high school graduate.

The inescapable question that confronts the applicant at every office door is, "What can you do that we want done?"
What the Southern wants to em-

the power to decide positively and

JUNIOR RED CROSS TO SEND CHRISTMAS PACKAGES OVER SEA

In accordance with the annual custom begun during the world war the Junior Red Cross this afternoon will prepare for shipment abroad 5,000
Christmas boxes containing small gifts for children across the seas. These boxes have been prepared and filled
by the school children of Atlanta in connection with the Junior Red Cross.
From here they will be shipped to New York to the Red Cross headquarters there and prepared for transportation by boat to practically all the countries of Europe, Haiti, Porto Rico and the Panama Canal zone. As the size of the boxes is limited, much ingenuity has been shown in getting useful gifts of the proper size, and some 5,000 of them have been turned in to the Red Cross headquarters here.

vanished entirely. It is seldom that remove your freckles.—(adv.)

Beard of British King Presented Emory Museum

A king's beard now lies in a glass case in the Emory university museum.
This museum, long famous for its large collection of Egyptian mummies and other relics of the Near East, now boasts a part of the personal adornment of King Edward of England, who lived from 1441
to 1483. He was the son of Richard,
Duke of York.
The donor gives evidence for the authenticity of the relic in two letters to Dr. Dewey. He says the beard was given to him by his intimate friend, Sir Frederick de la Pole, first sonet, whose ancestor, John de la Pole, Duke of Suffolk, married Elizabeth,
sister of Edward IV and Richard III.

is limited to graduates of colleges of recognized standing.
A summer course in library training is to be given in 1929, Miss Barker stated.
During September the Carnegie li-

BOND FIRM MAY BUILD 5 SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Mayor Formally Notified That Contractor Has Suspend- ed Work.

Efforts to resume work on the five school projects on which construction has been suspended will be taken immediately, it was announced Thursday by Mayor I. N. Ragsdale, and at the same time Alderman J. Allen Couch, of the fifth ward and chairman of the schools committee of city council, announced that he had called a special meeting of the board to consider more than $700,000 worth of new school additions authorized Tuesday by the board of education. Mr. Couch's committee will meet at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon in the mayor's office.

Formal notification of suspension of work on the five schools which were contracted for by the Joe W. Stout company was filed Thursday with the mayor by the National Surety company, bondsmen for Stout. Financial difficulties are said to have caused the halt.

Schools affected are Morningside, Grant Park, Haygood-State, Edgewood and Whiteford avenue.

Probability that the schools will be turned over to the bonding company to complete was seen in city hall circles. The mayor probably will call a conference today.

City Attorney B. Graham West announced that he would advertise $2,500,000 of bonds from the $8,000,000 bond issue voted in 1926 for civic improvement. Bids will be opened November 15.

Included in the list will be $1,500,000 for school buildings, $500,000 for sewers and $150,000 water bonds, all bearing

4.5 per cent interest and maturing at the rate of about $80,000 a year beginning in 1930.

Remaining unsold from the issue after the sale will be $309,000 school bonds, and $1,225,000 sewer bonds. A total of $1,000,000 for construction of the Pryor street and Central avenue viaducts and $1,000,000 for the new city hall already has been sold.

GENERAL'S NEW TIRE SHOWN TO DEALERS

Introducing General's new Dual Ballon "S" to dealers in this advertising section, a factory organization of officials of that widely-known tire manufacturer Thursday began a two-day sales conference at the Biltmore hotel preceding the first public appearance of the new tire product on the Atlanta market next Monday.

Officials of the General Tire & Rubber company, of Akron, who are here include W. O'Neill, president; A. B. Stiller, advertising manager; Ben Heer, assistant sales manager; Frank Gable, service engineer; Frank Harrington, manager of the accessory department; Frank Mateko, of the treasury department, and Earl Harlow, sales development department. H. D. Taylor, southern district manager with headquarters of the local General branch, is host to the gathering of officials and dealers.

"In putting the new Dual Ballon 'S' on the market," Mr. Stiller said, "we have retained in it all of General's famous flexibility and regular balloon pressure found in our four and six-ply tires with the added desirable features of eight-ply carcass construction and durability.

"The Dual Ballon 'S' features style and speed, being made to meet every requirement of modern traffic and to withstand every one of the tremendous strains to which tires now are subjected. It has every style requirement and in addition is really ahead of actual road demands to cope with the speed, shocks and strain of the day. It is General's gesture of leadership in tire-making."

Mr. Stiller stated that General last year made a 21 1/2 per cent sales gain, ringing up this record by doing all its business through authorized dealers. He added that the new Dual Ballon "S" will be the subject of a nationwide advertising campaign in newspapers designed to acquaint the public with its many splendid features.

Dirigible Brings German Samples To Rich Company

* Another illustration of modern speed in merchandising developed here Thursday when officials of the M. Rich & Bros. Co., announced that two packages of samples consigned from the department store's Frankfurt commissionaire are aboard the dirigible Graf-Zeppelin in his historic journey across the seas to Lakehurst, N. J.

Cableing from the German city, L. S. Mayer, the commissionaire, informed Rich officials Thursday of the fact that the packages are en route in the big balloon now over the Atlantic bound for America.

In order to intensify the example of almost unbelievable quickness with which foreign merchandise may be obtained in Atlanta, Frank H. Neely, general manager of Rich's, has given instructions that as soon as the packages arrive in Lakehurst, they be rushed to this city by airplane. Photographs of the giant of the air and its Atlanta cargo also will be furnished Mr. Neely.

Two Levels To Our Price Range

Factors which enter into the selection of clothing, are comparable to the purchase of a motor car. A Chevrolet, for instance, will take you, and bring you back—quickly, comfortably, safely. A Cadillac will do the same—and more.

But there are many people able and willing to pay the difference for Cadillac refinements, which are impossible to obtain in a lower-priced car.

Just so with clothing!

$27.50 to $37.50 insures the essential features of a satisfactory suit or topcoat, in style, fit, workmanship and service; but

$40.00 to $55.00 obtains desirable refinements that are impossible for one to even expect in the lower-priced range.

Catering, as we do, to the masses, there must be two levels to our price range.

Senator Myrick Recommends Road Bond Issue for Georgia To Put State on Modern Basis

$100,000,000 Suggested, To Be Administered by Appointed Bond Commission.

Savannah, Ga., October 11.—(AP)—Shelby Myrick, member of the last senate and renominated in the recent primary, announced today that he favored a $100,000,000 bond issue for building 3,000 miles of paved roads in Georgia.

Outlining his proposal, which would call for a constitutional amendment, Mr. Myrick said the fund should be administered by a bond commission appointed by the governor and the highway board, at an early date to consider the proposal, along with any other suggestions and arrive at a measure acceptable to everyone prior to the meeting of the general assembly in June.

He said the bonds could be issued without taxation, funds for retirement coming from gasoline taxes and sales of auto taxes. In his address, Mr. Myrick said:

State's Problem. "The greatest internal problem before the people of Georgia today is the construction of a modern system of a primary system of paved or hard-surfaced roads in the shortest period of time.

"The public is now demanding a settlement of this problem. To those who have devoted intensive study to the question, the problem can only be solved by a fundamental change in the highway laws. Failure in the past nine years to complete an adequate system of hard-surfaced roads has been due not so much to the highway law as to the defects in the law itself. The county seat to county seat plan of building and paving roads, with the counties participating in the cost, is basically wrong. Time and experience have proved this assertion to be correct beyond any question of a doubt. If the most expert engineers in America should be placed on the highway board of Georgia and given a free hand to build roads, with all policies eliminated, they could not make much more progress than heretofore made in the last nine years under the present law. It must be remembered, that regardless of the personnel of the highway board, whenever any given line of road is projected, the board must build that road through certain county seats and each county must contribute to the expense.

"Each county therefore has more or less a veto power over the building of any given line of road. If any county either refuse or is unable to contribute, or wishes to dictate as to the route the road shall take, the building of that particular line of road is held up or altogether blocked. Besides all of this, the building of roads on the 'pay-as-you-plan' basis is too slow a plan. With funds limited every year for new roads, with maintenance expense to be taken care of at the while (which always heavy on roads still unpaved) a complete system of hard surfaced roads could not possibly be built in Georgia inside of ten or fifteen years' time.

Paved Roads Necessary. "It should further be remembered that Georgia has one hundred and sixty-one counties—more counties than any state except the great state of Texas. Consequently there is a greater demand and need for an extensive system of paved roads than in states of similar size. There is already incorporated into the state aid system of roads a greater mileage than can be properly handled with present revenues.

"As previously stated, no highway board, unless composed of magicians, could build a complete system of paved roads in any reasonable time in the future under the handicap and limitations of the present laws and present revenues. The only complete remedy for the situation is a fundamental change in the law. A change in the entire personnel of the highway board would not, in my opinion, bring about the desired result.

"What Georgia really needs is a 'reorganization' of the law. This statement is not promulgated for the slightest by any political consideration, or by any feeling for or against the members of the present highway board; for the fact is that, if any one of the changes in the law which I shall propose is made by the legislature, the highway board will be relegated to a position of secondary importance.

"To wait until the general assembly convenes for the presentation of changes in the highway laws would, in my judgment, be ineffectual. The length of the regular sessions of the general assembly is limited. Unfortunately, much time is generally frittered away in oratory and in the consideration of pet measures of individual members, as well as in the consideration of bills of minor importance. All of the members of the general assembly cannot properly study nor digest any bill that is presented for the first time upon the convening of the legislature.

Must Awake Sentiment. "Public sentiment must be awakened and crystallized in advance of any session of the legislature, whether regular or extraordinary, so that when the legislature does convene, not only will the people know what they want in the way of changes in the highway law and demand these changes at the hands of the representatives, but the representatives themselves will understand thoroughly any measure or set of measures to be proposed.

"The foregoing result is what I have in mind in submitting for the consideration of the people of Georgia at this time suggestions in the way of new highway laws. These suggestions can be taken for what they are worth, either by the governor himself or by a body of representative citizens called by him—including members of both branches of the general assembly—as well as by the civic bodies and chambers of commerce throughout the state. The plans or changes suggested by me can then be amplified and improved upon and a comprehensive bill or set of bills worked out in advance for consideration by the general assembly.

"If no such action is taken and no concerted plan can be agreed upon, then I propose of course to introduce the measure or measures which, in my opinion, will be best suited to bring about the results in highway construction so earnestly desired now by the people of the state, and I shall urge their passage.

"In any event, it should be distinctly understood that I shall have a decided opinion in favor of any measure I would much prefer that any plan or bill suggested by me should meet the approval of the governor of the state and be recommended by him, either partially or wholly, to the general assembly and thereafter should be taken in hand by joint committees of the senate and house and pressed to passage.

"It can be demonstrated very easily that a complete system of primary hard-surfaced roads can be built through every county in Georgia within three or four years with a bond issue of seventy-five million dollars. And it is a bond issue of one hundred million dollars the indebtedness of the state to the several counties in Georgia who have participated in the cost of construction of roads can be satisfied and repaid. The indebtedness now amounts to over twenty million dollars and possibly by the time the bond issue is sold, two years hence—and the bonds sold the indebtedness will extend to twenty-five million dollars.

Dr. Goodyear Receives Copy of Third Book, "Arlequin Sauvage"

Dr. Nolan A. Goodyear, professor of romance languages at Emory university, has just received the published copy of his third book, "Arlequin Sauvage," published by the Century company, and is a part of the Century Modern Language Series, of which Professor Kenneth McKenzie, of Princeton, is the general editor.

"Arlequin Sauvage" is a comparatively little known play by Delisle. It was written in 1721 for the Italian players at Paris who began making tours of France as early as 1548 and who settled definitely in Paris in 1655, where they remained until the revolution. The play was written to be played by the stock characters of the Italian company, and is an example of the Carlinquade play.

The book by the Emory professor contains besides the play itself a bibliography, notes, vocabulary, and an introduction. The introduction is a concise study of the Italian players in France, with a short biography of the author Delisle.

Dr. Goodyear's two preceding books are "Tableau Synoptique des Verbes Français" and "Eighteenth Century French Plays." The latter was compiled jointly by Brenner and Goodyear.

The league was organized primarily to fight the threatened incursion of apartment houses and other detriments to the neighborhood.

BYRD WIRES THANKS TO NAVY DEPARTMENT

Is Grateful to All Who Aided in Preparing Expedition.

Washington, October 11.—(AP)—Commander Richard E. Byrd, upon his departure with the antarctic expedition yesterday sent a message of appreciation to the navy department and to others who assisted him in launching the adventure.

The message was received today and told of the preparations for the expedition the member of which, it said, would make every effort to live up to and be worthy of the traditions of the navy.

"I respectfully report our departure today (October 10) from San Pedro, Calif., on the Steamship C. A. Larsen, with four airplanes, 100 tons of material and the aviation personnel," the message read. "The expedition's ships, Eleanor Holling, with 30 men on board, and the steamship City of New York, with 32 men, are in the Pacific en route to New Zealand.

"The whaling ship Sir James Clark Ross is also in the Pacific en route to New Zealand with 100 dogs and five dog team drivers. All ships will meet at New Zealand and the two expedition ships will proceed to the Ross ice barrier, which we probably will reach around the middle of January, 1929.

"I wish to express for all members of the expedition, as well as myself, our very keen appreciation for the assistance the navy has given to the expedition. The members of the navy department, the commandant of the fifth naval district (Rear Admiral Guy B. Burroughs, Norfolk, Va.) and the commanding officer, naval air station, Hampton Roads (Commander Albert C. Read) have given all possible assistance and encouragement that the regulations permitted and without their help our departure on schedule time would not have been possible.

"I wish to report also that the army with its usual good sportsmanship toward the navy has cooperated enthusiastically wherever such cooperation has been requested. The members of the expedition will make every effort to live up to and be worthy of the traditions of the navy.

The expedition expects to return in the summer of 1930."

2 YALE STUDENTS GUILTY OF ASSAULT IN HALTING TRUCK

Chambersburg, Pa., October 11.—(AP)—Alexander Knapp, of Baltimore, Md., and Sydney R. Price, Jr., of Washington, D. C., two Yale students, were found guilty of simple assault by a jury in the Franklin county court today. They were found not guilty of impersonating federal officers and of assault with intent to rob.

Following the verdict Judge Watson R. Davidson instructed District Attorney Oltinger to file charges of operating a car while intoxicated against Price and a charge of permitting an intoxicated person to operate his car against Knapp.

Judge Davidson deferred passing sentence on the assault conviction pending the outcome of the charges filed today.

The indictments followed the halting of a truck owned and driven by Harry M. Rowe, Waynesboro grocer, on September 4. Both of the youths committed the offense by halting the truck at the time of the action which brought the charges.

Atlanta Debutantes Are "Given the Air" And Go Plane Crazy High Above Clouds

LOCAL BUDS DELIGHTFULLY ENTERTAINED AT AVIATION PARTY.

The photograph presents five charming members of the Debutantes club of 1928-29, who rode in the airplane at Candler field yesterday afternoon. Reading from left to right are Misses Josephine Hollis, Billy Johnson, president of the club; Marion Hull Smith, and Kitty Park. Miss Hortense Adams is seated on the wing of the plane and A. L. McCullough, of the Pitcairn company, was the pilot. Photograph by Rogers and Farmer.

BY FLORENCE ECKFORD.

Loud were the heartbeats when five of the season's debutantes, including Misses Josephine Hollis, Kitty Parks and Marion Hull Smith alighted from their cars at Candler field yesterday afternoon. They were there in response to the following unique and charmingly different request, sent each member of this year's debutante club by J. P. Allen and company:

"Believe it or not, we audaciously dare

On Thursday, this week to 'give you' Out at Candler field we'll be waiting for you. So please be on time, thirty minutes And when you arrive we will handle our sticks And takeoff just like a real aviatrice.

1929 CONVENTION OF SPANISH WAR VETS AT DENVER

Havana, October 11.—(AP)—The United Spanish War Veterans in their closing session today voted to meet at Denver, Colo., next year for their thirty-first annual convention. Denver was chosen after what was declared the most bitter contest in 20 years in naming a convention city, over Atlantic City, Philadelphia, Memphis and Oakland, Calif.

The naming of Denver concluded the business sessions of the thirtieth annual reunion, which opened here Monday. The morning session resulted in election of officers, all of whom were elected by acclamation. The new national commander is William L. Grayson, of Savannah, Ga.

A resolution thanking the Cuban government and people for the reception on the assault conviction pending the outcome of the charges filed today.

An unscheduled event of the final session was the presentation of a large Cuban flag to the veterans' organization by a Cuban veteran representing the town of Calabrier and the interior of the island.

An urgent appeal was made for victims of the recent Porto Rico storm of their life.

We'll take you to ride in a big Pitcairn plane. Provided, of course, that you don't let it rain."

And these magnificent promises came true, for upon arrival the young ladies were supplied with natty telamanc aviation coats from J. P. Allen and company and assigned places in two large Pitcairn air mail planes piloted by Ben Faulkner, operations manager of the field, and A. L. McCullough, both Pitcairn pilots.

Several of the girls were no novices at this pleasure and business called aviation, having ridden from London to Paris while abroad, or over points of interest in this country, and even from Miami to Cuba, but it may truthfully be added that no one of them had previously attended an "aviation party" when flying was done "en masse." And never before had they been privileged to feel so like real aviatrix's, the smart regulation coats they donned for the occasion, topped by aviation caps.

Miss Smith decided that correctness of detail was essential to the success of the flight so before each debutante took her place in the plane her belt was sportily twisted according to the prevalent mode dictated by Amelia Earhart and Colonel Lindbergh.

Despite assurances of previous flights each debutante's face was aglow with the flush of excited anticipation and several voices were a bit shaky as good-bys were voiced to friends there to bid them "bon voyage" in those great ships of the air.

Contact was called, the roar of the propeller drowned out the last word of farewell, and the graceful planes zoomed up into the great unknown kingdom of the air to carry their lovely passengers over Atlanta so that they might view from a new angle their homes and other spots dear to their hearts.

LARGER PENSIONS FOR CONFEDERATE VETERANS URGED

Jacksonville, Fla., October 11.—(AP) Plans for larger pensions for United Confederate veterans and their widows, continued harmonious relationship between the soldiers in gray and the sons of Confederate veterans and a larger enrollment in the latter association were made by Edmund R. Wiles of Little Rock, Ark., commander-in-chief of the Sons of Confederate veterans, in addressing the thirty-eighth annual state reunion of the parent organization here tonight.

Speaking in tones of reverence and esteem for those thinning ranks of gray which year by year grow smaller and smaller, Mr. Wiles declared that the primary purpose of his organization was to perpetuate their cause and ideas that have endured the years since the conflict between the states, and to see that they are properly and adequately cared for in the final days of their life.

Some of the veterans will depart tomorrow, but many others will remain for the government trip to Santiago de Cuba.

AL SMITH'S OPPONENTS PROTEST BALLOT FORM TODAY FOR MEDICOS

Delegation Contends That Tickets Should Appear in Parallel Columns.

Protest against the proposed form of the official ballot for the November 6 general election was voiced Thursday by a group of republicans and "anti-Smith democrats" in a conference with Governor L. G. Hardman. The protest has been in the course of preparation for several days, after the names of the candidates were turned over to the governor's office by George Carswell, secretary of state. Governor Hardman withheld decision on the ballot until he has given the matter more thought.

The form of the ballot as had been proposed, that of running the democratic presidential nominees and electors, state house officers and constitutional amendments in one long column, and of printing the republican, anti-Smith democrat and other presidential tickets in parallel columns at right angles to the democratic ticket, was objected to strongly by the republicans and anti-Smith democrats.

The protestants declared that the law, in describing the form of ballot, sets out that the tickets shall be printed in parallel columns.

Albert Howell, attorney, and Thomas R. Gress, assistant attorney general, were called in by Governor Hardman for advice. Mr. Gress read to the conference the Neill election law, which provides that the ticket shall designate the name of the political party to which the candidate belongs. Mr. Howell pointed out that the state house officers in the democratic ticket were nominated by the democratic party and are democrats, and that the nominees could hardly be claimed by another party under the law, Mr. Gress cited.

Among those who called on the governor were: Hooper Alexander, an anti-Smith democrat; J. R. Rose, E. K. Large, Clint W. Viger, M. O. Punning, Albert S. Anderson, Sr., and Albert S. Anderson, Jr., republicans.

Claude C. Mason, secretary of the Fulton county democratic executive committee, and Secretary of State Carswell attended the conference.

2,500-Gallon Limit For Gasoline Tanks In Atlanta Favored

Members of the sub-committee of the Atlanta fire board considering proposed installation of several 20,000 gallon capacity gasoline tanks at retail stations in the city will recommend that all tanks be limited to 2,500 gallon capacity, it was learned Thursday. The findings of the sub-committee will be offered Monday afternoon to a general meeting of the fire board, slated to precede the regular semi-monthly meeting of council.

Tanks located in retail establishments will be limited to 2,500 gallons in the city limits and no tanks of more than 2,500 gallon capacity will be permitted in the inner fire limits, irrespective of whether they are in retail or wholesale establishments, if recommendations of the committee are adopted. Wholesale tanks of more than 2,500 gallon capacity will be permitted outside the fire limits in wholesale establishments under the committee's recommendations.

General Electric Refrigerator Men Here; Field Broad

The time is not far off when every one of the 17,500,000 wired homes in the country will be equipped with electric refrigerators, according to W. E. Landmesser, of the General Electric refrigerator department.

"So far," he continued, "we have hardly scratched the surface of this vast market. Slightly over 4 per cent of the wired homes in the United States are equipped with electric refrigeration and know that the public realizes the value and necessity of perfect refrigeration, we believe the number of owners will grow in leaps and bounds."

"The field is really unlimited. In addition to domestic or home installations, thousands have been sold to apartment houses, hospitals and public buildings. There is also an opportunity for a tremendous business in the commercial market. Meat markets, ice cream stores, dairies, florists and many others can make excellent use of electric refrigeration and I don't believe the day is far off when homes will be cooled by refrigeration in summer, even as they are heated artificially in the winter."

Mr. Landmesser is here attending a regional sales conference of General Electric refrigerator dealers. The conference will be held today at the Atlanta Athletic club, and the attendance will close with a banquet tonight, after which various members of the organization will be called upon to relate their experiences in selling General Electric refrigerators.

Mr. Jones, in company with the local arrangements committee, Thursday afternoon visited the auditorium, where the sessions will be held, and expressed his satisfaction with the big building, which has been cleaned and decorated in preparation for the meet.

The assembly will be conducted from Monday through Friday and will be in the nature of a huge medical school. Nearly 100 eminent surgeons and physicians will be in charge of the clinical work and lectures, which are expected to cover practically every branch of medicine and surgery. The attending experts will come from practically every state and from countries in South America and Europe.

Smaller pre-assembly clinics will be conducted at Wesley Memorial hospital today and Saturday for the benefit of the early arrivals. Local doctors are in charge of this work.

In addition to the technical and business work of the assembly, an elaborate entertainment program has been arranged for the visiting medics. Golf, dinners, a barbecue and dancing are some of the diversions that will be offered them.

The headquarters for the meeting will be at the Biltmore hotel and the first official entertainment will be given there, in the form of a musicale, at 8 o'clock Sunday night.

Stanley was appointed a member of the commission to succeed the late R. E. Davison, G. A. Johns, of Winier, was named vice chairman, an office which the commission recently created because, it explained, increasing duties made the post necessary.

The beautiful manor house structure has been open to the public from 7:30 to 10 o'clock each night this week and will be open during the same hours tonight. Crowds are increasing daily and it was stated Thursday that 5,000 persons had called on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

EMORY DRAMATIC CLUB ASKS CO-EDS TO TRY FOR PLACES

That Emory men do not like to play the part of females was evidenced Thursday when Jimmie Adams, president of the Emory Dramatic club, was forced to issue a call for real co-eds to come out for the club activities.

Dr. Thomas H. English, director of the club, declared that he could use every co-ed who would apply. Heretofore, co-eds at Emory have found it difficult to make a place for themselves in student activities and this is the first instance where an Emory organization has urged them to participate in its work.

The Dramatic club at Emory, a new organization, has excellent prospects. Plans are being formulated whereby the club will present plays in conjunction with the motion picture shows offered by the Emory "Y" each week. In addition, monthly one-act plays will be presented.

The club will offer several attractions at the annual Emory "stunt nite," according to plans. A full length play of several acts will be offered near the close of the year.

$5,800,000 FOR LEASE OF CITY HALL REFUSED

Several Other Propositions
Also Rejected by Committee.

Members of the special city hall committee of city council Thursday rejected a bid for lease of the present city hall site carrying a compensation of $5,800,000 for the proposed 90-year life of the lease, and also formally declined to pass favorably on several other propositions.

The tract is located at Marietta and Forsyth streets and will be abandoned when the new city hall is completed at Washington and Mitchell streets.

Mayor I. N. Ragdale submitted the bid, but, at the request of the bidder, withheld his name. The lease proposal was to have begun at $40,000 a year and to have been on an ascending scale.

Another offer by Ward Wight, prominent Atlanta real estate dealer, for $4,000,000 for a 90-year lease also was among those rejected, as was a proposal of $3,275,000 for a lease for the same period by the S. A. Lynch interests.

Councilman Howard C. McCutcheon, of the second ward, and chairman of the committee, declared he would take immediate steps to ask council to permit a longer time for negotiations in an effort to get better offers.

Action of the committee on the $5,800,000 tender was rejected when Mayor Ragdale expressed the opinion that all the offers received thus far have been too low.

City he has been conducting at the St. Paul Methodist church, it was announced Thursday by Dr. B. F. Fraser, pastor.

Large numbers have attended the services throughout the week. The series of services are sponsored by the Epworth league.

A unique closing will mark the end of the series Sunday night, when a homecoming rally will be staged beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

BEWARE THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

THE NIGHTMARE

By GERALD MYGATT

SYNOPSIS

Patricia Shand, a being entertained in one of New York's night clubs by Fanning Edger, she is annoyed by the smiling stare of a hawk-nosed man on the opposite side of the room. At the table with the Hawk are a blonde, coarse looking woman and a slight young man who appears to be drunk. The head waiter calls young Edger away from his table on a pretext, and as soon as he is gone the Hawk approaches Patricia and tries to engage her in conversation. He is interrupted by a good looking young chap who orders him back to his place. The newcomer introduces himself as Jimmy Kirklin. Patricia tells Kirklin she thinks the hawk-nosed person had asked the head waiter to get rid of her escort. A fight ensues and Fanning Edger walks in on it. He pays the head waiter to restore order and Fanning introduces Kirklin to him and then asks Fanning to take her home. A few minutes later, as Kirklin leaves the place with his companion, he is followed by a man on the street who appears to be drunk. The hawk-nosed person, known as Bart Stemon, after taking the blonde woman home, makes for his secret hideout and there goes over a number of old newspaper clippings dealing with the disappearance of the 11-year-old daughter of Colonel La Verry, who offers a million dollars reward for the safe return of the girl. Patricia glances over the fact that the pictures of Sylvia La Verry resemble the girl he saw in the cabaret with Fanning Edger, except for a red birthmark shown in the pictures.

The next day, which is Saturday, Patricia and Jimmy spend the afternoon together and then Patricia takes the evening train to her home in Far Harbor, Long Island, after Jimmy promises to come out to Far Harbor on Monday. Patricia goes to meet Jimmy at the end of the bus line on Monday and is bitterly disappointed when he doesn't show up.

INSTALLMENT XXIII.
LADY LUCK TAKES A HAND.
The bolt was open and Jimmy dared not risk the noise of sliding it shut. He stared at the bolt impotently, then shook his head and returned to his inspection of the keyhole. Yes, there was one little crevice through which he could just peek. Through this crevice he squinted, decided he could see nothing but a spot of green, then became aware that the green thing was the hem of a skirt and that the swaying pinkish thing beyond it was a plump leg encased in flesh colored silk.

Jimmy smiled grimly. It was a satisfaction to be certain that the very woman he was trailing was actually there in the next room; he knew the color of that green dress of hers beyond possibility of mistake. Of course he had taken it for granted that it was she, but now he knew. As for the man whose voice he could hear, there could be no question about his identity either. He well remembered that voice. As long as they didn't grow suspicious and open the door—Jimmy shrugged—well, one way or another that possibility would have to remain in the hands of Lady Luck.

The woman was speaking.

"That's what I told you a minute ago," she said with apparent insistence. "The old man is sailing Saturday. That's this week Saturday, not next year Saturday. He's sailing for his health and the trip takes six months. Suppose he croaks on the way. Suppose he gets persuaded the girl is dead. Add any of those things up, will you? Add 'em all up. You see where we got to step on the gas. Allowing Thursday as the deadline, that gives us only tomorrow and Wednesday to do the whole job—birthmark, nose, and Doc Lasten's end of it, and on top of that we've got to stage the actual turning over of the girl. Bart's dead right—we've got to nail her tonight."

"Looks like it," the man observed. Then he asked a question: "The doc's end of the job, what's that amount to?"

"Amount to? That's rich. You got brains enough, Joe, to figure out the doc's end of the job without any help from me. It don't matter how much this cutie looks like the other one, birthmark and all. If she don't act like the other one—and not only act like the other one but really think she's the other one."

"That means hypnotism," said the man definitely. "I've heard you and Bart talking about it some."

"You hear too much," the woman snapped.

"Maybe I do, Queenie, or maybe you and Bart talk too much. But I can tell you one thing about hypnotism that Bart ought to know—you can't put a person under against his will. Even Doc Lasten with all his brains can't do that. If this kid don't want to be hypnotized she ain't going to be, and the whole game falls flat."

"O, does it?" remarked the woman sarcastically. "Maybe Bart and the Doc and I better forget all about it, hey?" She laughed. "Say, Joe, you make me tired. Don't you suppose the Doc knows as much as you do—maybe just a little more? For your own benefit let me ask you one easy question. Suppose a person hasn't any will! Could you hypnotize 'em then?"

"Why—why, yeh, I guess so. Only everybody's got some will, Queenie."

"Not after the Doc gets through with them," said the woman with what sounded like a chuckle. Then:

In the new Steinite Electric AC Radio you are offered the finest achievement in radio's history—the highest point of beauty, simplicity and convenience which has yet been attained. The beautifully finished cabinet of the Steinite holds within it a masterpiece of radio engineering—a precision instrument of scientifically correct design, built carefully of the finest materials so that it may give you care-free, perfect radio enjoyment for many years.

There has never been a receiver more simple in its operation than the new Steinite. All controls—the single illuminated drum dial, the volume control, the antenna compensator and the switch, are grouped within the beautiful antique finished bronze escutcheon plate, placing the entire control of the set at the finger-tips of one hand.

The cabinet of the table model is made of Tanguile, the most beautiful of all Philippine woods. The consoles are made of American black walnut veneer, with burl walnut overlays. All models are finished in genuine Duco which enhances and preserves the original beauty of the fine woods.

When you visit your Steinite dealer, ask to look at the inside of the new Steinite Electric Radio. Your first glance will surprise and delight you—all interior parts are richly finished in gold!

Note the sturdy construction of the set—it is built like a battleship. The finer and more sensitive apparatus is completely protected with a cold drawn steel sub-panel.

Note the condenser assembly. Even the shaft that rotates the condenser plates are double the size required. We put in an extra large shaft to avoid any possibility of the precision plates of the variable condensers getting out of line. The cradle around the condensers, made of cold drawn steel, electrically welded, give the condensers added strength and protection. The condenser assembly is so strong that it could be tossed as far as you could throw it without serious damage.

The power pack which converts the house lighting current into smooth direct current, suitable for use in operating the set, is a romantic thing within itself. To the casual observer it appears to be nothing but a box of wax, but down underneath that wax you'll find miles and miles of wire as fine as hair, each little turn contributing its share to furnishing you radio entertainment of the very best. You'll find hundreds of feet of ribbon tin-foil, wound alternately with ribbons of paper of a special kind, which can be obtained in only one section of the world. The wax you see is merely a covering—a protection for this precision apparatus.

WHAT THESE FEATURES MEAN IN PERFORMANCE

The advanced engineering of the new Steinite has given it an unusual degree of selectivity and sensitivity, and a beautiful tone quality which will thrill you. Its ability to reach out for the far distant stations, and its wealth of power make it an outstanding radio achievement.

Steinite sets are licensed under the patents of The Radio Corporation of America, The General Electric Company, The Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company and The American Telephone and Telegraph Company. The vast research work of these organizations is open to Steinite engineers.

Yes—The Steinite Electric AC Radio is America's greatest radio value!

MIDNIGHT MATINEE OPENS AL JOLSON FILM

"The Singing Fool" Is Greatest Picture Screen Has Conceived.

Surging with the beautiful, poignant drama of a man's soul, told in the most impressive language the screen ever has spoken, "The Singing Fool," second and greatest Al Jolson Vitaphone picture, will begin a week's run at the Howard theater with a special midnight matinee at one minute after 12 o'clock Sunday night.

Yet thrilling and tugging Broadway with its dramatic humanness and magnificence, where thousands paid $11 per seat on the first night, and where $80,000 in advance seat sales at the Winter Garden already have been reserved at $5 per seat, this great picture of the year is brought to Atlanta's Howard theater at no increase in price.

Tickets for the midnight matinee are now on sale at the box office of the Howard theater. Immediate reservations are urged. Tickets cannot be purchased Sunday until after midnight and those who have previously bought tickets will be admitted before midnight and before the crowds. The most stupendous crowds ever to throng a local theater will see "The Singing Fool" next week, and since the film will be shown positively only one week, the theater will be opened at 9 o'clock each morning, two hours earlier than schedule.

To miss seeing "The Singing Fool" is to miss the greatest thing the screen has ever conceived!

Dance for Italian Consul Marks Celebration of 'Columbus Day'

Columbus day, or Discovery day, will be celebrated today. At dawn of October 12, 435 years ago, a small fleet under the command of Christopher Columbus came within sight of land, took possession and called the spot San Salvador. In 1892 the national congress directed the late President Benjamin Harrison to issue a proclamation recommending that October 12 be observed by appropriate exercises within the public schools. Since that time, today being no exception, the schools of the land have commemorated the landing date with poems, songs and hymns, in observation of the day that Columbus, the Italian explorer, discovered the western hemisphere.

Columbus day will be fittingly observed by the Circolo Italiano society and the Atlanta Foreign Trade club with a reception and dinner dance at 7 o'clock this evening on the Ansley hotel roof garden, honoring Cavalier Attilio Bollari, newly-arrived royal Italian consul, to Atlanta. The affair will assemble a large gathering of Atlantans, including Governor Hardman and Mrs. Hardman, Mayor Ragsdale and Mrs. Ragsdale, and the president of the city's major civic clubs.

Another social event of major importance will be the rehearsal party given at the Marietta Golf club this evening by Mrs. Frank Harwell in compliment to her sister, Miss Nancy Boston, and Joseph Shelton Raine, Jr., whose marriage takes place tomorrow evening at a brilliant ceremony in the First Methodist church in Marietta. Among the Atlantans in the bridal party are Miss Lucy Tate, of Marietta; Miss Runa Erwin, Miss Ruth Osburn, Miss Edna Belle Raine, of Atlanta, and Miss Wayne McCrary, of Bristol, Va. ROY WOULDN'T LEND THE HORSES SO WE HIRED THEM—EACH ONE GAVE HIM A DIME AND WE GOT ON RIGHT AWAY, AND SOME OF US GOT OFF RIGHT AWAY, TOO. GEE! THEY WERE WILD.

AND BEFORE WE COULD GET STARTED ROY'S DADDY CAME OVER THE FENCE AND GOT MAD AT US FOR MAKING HIS HORSES WILD AND HE CHASED US OUT OF THAT FIELD IN A HURRY.

AND THEN EVERY BOY IN OUR CLUB KNEW THAT HE WAS OUT TEN CENTS, AND WE TOOK OUT AFTER ROY DOBEL AND CHASED HIM FOUR MILES—BUT WE GOT OUR DIMES BACK, ANYWAY.

NEW YORK MAYOR PLANS TO CHECK UNCLEAN PLAYS

New York, October 11.—(AP)—Mayor James J. Walker believes he has discovered a way to keep unclean plays from Broadway.

The plan which the mayor has instructed Police Commissioner Warren to put into effect provides for an inspection at out-of-town tryouts of plays destined for New York showings.

In cases where productions are found objectionable a "moral suasion" will be used on managers and producers to keep them out of New York. Failure to abide by the police warning, however, will result in raids such as in the case of Mae West's "Pleasure Man" and enforcement of the state law which permits the pulling of an immoral play after a warning is given.

"We don't want to resort to censorship," said the mayor. "On the other hand, we cannot permit certain theatrical elements to run wild. Nor do we want to advertise salacious plays by spectacular raids. I know of no better way of meeting the problem than by striking at salacious plays before they are brought to New York."

Yellow Jackets Leave Today For Game With Tulane Saturday

T. H. S. Smithies Beat Chattanooga, 19 to 6

Powerful Attack of Purple Warriors Proves Too Much for Smart Invaders From Tennessee.

Backfield power plus carried Tech High school to a well-earned 19-to-6 victory Thursday afternoon over City High of Chattanooga.

Alternating between them, Hammond, Hadley, Mott and Hutt crashed center and guards time after time to carry the ball for successive first downs and finally three touchdowns.

Starting the second half on the losing end of a 6-to-0 score, these hefty Tech backs started their man-crushing, and after that it was all Tech.

Chattanooga unearthed a furious passing attack in the latter part of the first quarter and early in the second period. Bates, Chattanooga half, whipped a 20-yard line pass to McArthur, right end, who was standing behind the safety man. McArthur raced across the goal for the first marker but Kiersey failed to convert.

Misses Good Chance.
In the third period Chattanooga had a golden opportunity to tie the score at 13 to 13, when Mott passed to the shadow of Chattanooga's half, McArthur, who was standing behind the safety man. McArthur raced across the goal for the first marker but Kiersey failed to convert.

Chattanooga's running offensive was kept well in hand by the Tech forwards, only one first down being registered in each half by the visitors. T. H. S. made 11 first downs.

Five passes were batted down before McArthur, who was on the receiving end of practically all tosses during the afternoon, managed to get his hands on the ball. That pass netted the touchdown. Out of a total of 12 passes attempted by Chattanooga two were complete, eight batted down and two intercepted, both by Mott, Tech half.

Mott Aids Visitors.
Mott displayed some broken field running in the first half that went for naught due to his own fumbles, two of them in the second quarter giving Chattanooga chances to score. Mott fumbled twice more in the final half, once on Chattanooga's ten-yard line.

It was Hammond and Hadley who alternated between them at plugging the line and gave Tech her first score. These two backs, working first right guard and then left guard, crushed the visitors back 30 yards, the Hadley carried the oval over after Chattanooga had held three downs on its own yard line.

The second touchdown was a repetition of the first—just too much beef and brawn for the lighter team. Hammond failed to convert after the second goal.

The third goal came as the result of a weak kick by Bates, which gave Tech the ball on Chattanooga's 30-yard line. Mott passed to Vess for a touchdown. The try for goal was blocked.

Kiersey, diminutive half for Chattanooga, was the outstanding star in the visitors' attack, gaining much of the yardage recorded for his team.

Greenie Clash First on Road This Season

Tornado Winds Up Work With Light Session at Flats Friday Afternoon.

BY DICK HAWKINS.
For some peculiar reason, as yet unexplained, but irrefutable, the football clock continues to click off its 24 hours each day and before another two dozen hours are past howling mob of pop-eyed Atlantans will be in the Crescent City of the south waiting for the Tech-Tulane game of 1928.

In the words of the orator, that last sentence is fraught with meaning. "The Tech-Tulane game of 1928. Half a thousand fans will follow the Golden Tornado to New Orleans and this half thousand realizes, just as the team does, that this contest against the Greenies is a pivotal point in the hardest schedule Tech has faced in many a season.

Must Beat Tulane.
When the Piedmont limited chug out of Terminal station this afternoon at 4:20 it will carry 35 players who are expected to carry the colors of Tech to a second successive conference championship. That obligation rests heavy on those 35 players. They must beat Tulane to gain this end and they must beat Tulane in their stride without getting "on top" for the game. If they lose to the Greenies their morale will sustain a shock that may not be obliterated by the time the great Irish invade Atlanta next week.

There is no use mining words. Tech is pointing everything at a victory over Notre Dame. Tulane is just a necessary obstacle in their path to a conference championship, but the big object this season right now is Notre Dame.

Whole Gang Going.
But enough of moralizing. Back to the subject at hand. Coach Alexander will be accompanied by Bill Fincher, line coach; Firpo Martin, assistant line coach; and Coach Hal Barron, who trains the boys. Thirty-five players will go with the team.

They are as follows: Centers, Captain Paul Rusk, Law and McLean; guards, Alternate Captain Drennon; Westbrooke, Brooke, Edwards, Cain and Wingo; tackles, Maree, Holt, Thrash, Wingo, and Wilkins; ends, Waddell, Holland, Jones, Keener, Vetter and Parham; quarters, Durrant, Smith and Schulman; halves, Thompson, Mendenhall, Lounsbury, Flowers and Faist; full backs, Randolph, Fitzgerald and Luna; Heron and Sloan, substitute ends, and Heeke and Frink, substitute backs, will go to Tulane or will accompany Don Miller to North Carolina on a scouting campaign. Two will go to each place, Buster Harris and J. R. Leach, senior managers, will assist Professor Armstrong in directing the business affairs of the team on the trip.

The fan special leaves the Terminal station promptly at 8 o'clock tonight, and late Thursday night Atlanta and West Point officials declared that 10 Pullman coaches and two day coaches had been assigned to the train. That number is likely to be increased by late reservations today. Upward of 500 Tech fans will see the game, there is little doubt of that.

Hold Light Workout.
Thursday afternoon the Jackets took a light workout, the master minds being rightfully unwilling to take the chance on injuring any of their men before this all-important battle by sending them through a scrimmage. The afternoon was split three ways, long sessions being devoted to passes, punts and the kick-off angle. A half-dozen of veterans went up against the Grey Devils in an effort to smear the simulation of the Greenies' pass attack put on by Firpo Martin's squad. They did a good job of it, very few leaves being completed, and compensation being gotten in the form of interceptions. The ends, meanwhile, spent a few moments in snugging a few tosses on the lower end of the field, while the linemen took a crack at the dummies.

Three teams then lined up and punted to safety men, with Mizell doing the best work. The squads went into a track session to cover the boots. Waddell and Lumpkin led the center of the stage in the next act, kicking off to the three line-ups in turn. Alex took steps to ease the strain of the heat on his squad yesterday when he issued navy blue jerseys of a light cotton to the men who are to make the jump. This should be a big help to the crew, whose woolen outfits would have been murderous at New Orleans.

Favorites Survive Women's Tourney
Norfolk, Va., October 11.—(AP)—Favorites in the annual women's tournament of the Middle Atlantic Golf association came through with flying colors in their second round matches at the Princess Anne Country club here today, each winning easily. Mrs. George McAllister, of Hampton, was the only Virginia woman to survive today's round, she being included in the group of four who will meet in the semi-finals tomorrow. Mrs. McAllister will face Miss Virginia Hilderder, of Baltimore, while Mrs. K. M. Haynes, of Washington, will clash with Mrs. M. L. Bell, another Washingtonian, in the other bracket.

Miss Hilderder, continuing the brilliant play that has characterized her golf during the tournament, snatched Miss Mary Wolfe, of Baltimore, 9 and 7. The match was won on the eleventh green. Mrs. McAllister scored a 7-to-5 defeat over Mrs. R. B. Quinter, of Washington. Mrs. W. Barkham Jones, Norfolk's last surviving entry, was eliminated by Mrs. Bell, 5 and 4. Each of the semi-finalists' victories was decisive.

Senators Square Coast Play-Off
Sacramento, October 11.—(AP)—With the big bat of Roy Rohwer, sub outfielder accounting for five of their runs, the Sacramento Senators took a hairbreadth encounter today from the San Francisco Seals to even the count at 1-1 in the playoff for the Pacific Coast championship. The final score was 8 to 7.

Although the Seals hammered Louis Vinci for 10 hits and nipped "Doc" Crandall, who relieved Vinci, for a single in the ninth, they were kept scattered almost equally throughout the game, while two of the Senators' eight hits were homers from Rohwer, bat, the first with three on base.

A near riot occurred in the fourth when Elmer Jacobs, Seals pitcher, angered at a called ball decision of Umpire Henry Fanning, threw a ball at him, striking him in the leg. A riot seemed imminent as the players surged around the home plate and the game was suspended for several minutes.

Score by innings: R. H. E. San Francisco 100 000 402-7 16 1 Sacramento 000 001 015-8 8 1 Batteries: San Francisco, Jones, Jacobs and Sprinz; Sacramento, Vinci, Crandall and Koehler.

LANDIS SIGNS YANK CHECKS FOR $176,289

Chicago, October 11.—(AP)—Financial echoes of the world series reverberated from the office of the baseball commissioner today, as Kenesaw Mountain Landis signed over checks totaling $176,289.37 to the victorious New York Yankees.

The commissioner disposed of the Yankees' division of the spoils in checks ranging from $200, the amount given Mrs. Urban Shocker, widow of the former Yankee hurler, to $5,813.20, the sum received by 23 players, coaches and Manager Miller Huggins.

New York, October 11.—(AP)—René Devas, bloated Belgian middleweight, battered out a decisive victory over K. O. Phil Kaplan, one of the few remaining obstacles in his path toward a shot at the 100-pound crown, in a stirring ten-round battle tonight in Madison Square Garden. Devas spilled his man for a count two with a sharp left hook in the second round.

Fighting for recognition in New York as the outstanding challenger for Mickey Walker's title, Devas displayed speed, cleverness and punching power. The Belgian war veteran is matched to battle George Courtney here in a match to decide Walker's challenger. Devas scaled 160 1-2; Kaplan, 160.

Mattie Rosenbloom, another New York middleweight, walloped Tiger Payne, Australian negro, into defeat in a ten-round semi-final. Rosenbloom weighed 162; Payne, 170.

Walt Johnson Is Mentioned As Nat Pilot

Friends Say "Big Train" Has Signed as Manager; Griffith Denies Report.

Coffeyville, Kans., October 11.—(United News.)—Friends of Walter Johnson, former veteran pitcher of the Washington Senators and manager of the Newark club of the International league the past season, said tonight that Johnson had signed up as successor to Manager Stanley Harris, of the Washington Senators.

Johnson, who was in the city today, was reported to have signed a contract with the Washington Senators, but Johnson himself said that he had not yet made any selection for the post which Mr. Harris held up until this year. I have not been in communication with Mr. Johnson and cannot understand where the report came from.

Petrels Working Hard For Loyola Game Here

Oglethorpe Machine Sent Through Stiff Session by Coaches Thursday Afternoon.

With their captain, Joe Hutson, barred from the team by officials of the S. L. A. A.—a hard blow that will be felt out at the Peachtree road institution—the Petrels of Oglethorpe worked overtime Thursday afternoon in an effort to round themselves into the best shape for the battle Saturday with Loyola of New Orleans.

The same work that has been going on all week out on Peachtree road was in order yesterday afternoon. Harry Robertson and "Nitty" Campbell, the master minds of the Petrel machine, sent them through a hard afternoon and will not let up on them until the day of the game.

Cy Bell, Lyman Fox and the others saw plenty of real work and looked good. If they continue in the same manner the strong Wolverine squad of Notre Dame in the opening game of the season will have to be mighty careful or the Birds will fly back to their nest at Oglethorpe with a victory under their wings.

Bell and Fox will carry most of the burden in the game with Loyola Saturday. These two lads went like wild fire against the High Point eleven last week and will be counted on to pull the Petrels through at Spiller's tomorrow.

Loyola will send a strong team here to face the Birds. The team is considered the best mounded at the school since football has been on its sport program and the Petrels will have their hands full. The memory of the Notre Dame game will still be in the minds of the Wolverines and they will be hard to stop.

Tickets for the game are on sale at Marshall and Reynolds, Peachtree at Broad.

WOLVES ARE OFF FOR PETREL BATTLE.
New Orleans, October 11.—(AP)—The Loyola Wolves, who gave Notre Dame a scare in their opening game of the season, left tonight for Atlanta to clash with Oglethorpe Saturday.

Loyola did not play last Saturday and will have two weeks of rest before the Oglethorpe game. The team is expected to be at top form, with the exception of Junior Lopez, diminutive of the Wolverines, who is nursing a sore finger on which a bone felon was lanced.

"Bucky" Moore, known as the "Dixie Flyer," is scheduled to call signals. Coach Shaugnessy predicted the Wolves would win.

Bulldogs Confident of Victory Over Yale as Battle Nears

Team Arrives In New York; Leaves Today

Squad Moves on to New Haven This Morning To Hold Final Workout.

BY BEN COTHMAN, Constitution Staff Correspondent.
New York, October 11.—The Georgia Bulldogs, confident but not cocky, went striding up Broadway tonight, taking a rather short glance at the quite large city of Manhattan before proceeding on to New Haven and another Bulldog, representing Yale, made famous last year when Georgia defeated the Eli team by a score of 14 to 10.

Coach Harry Mehre and his pack rolled in the big town tonight, will spend the night at the Vanderbilt hotel, a nice quiet, rather out of the way place and then bustle on over to New Haven tomorrow morning for a final workout tomorrow afternoon before taking on the Yale crew Saturday.

Everybody Confident.
All of this lively day your correspondent wandered up and down the length of the Seaboard's Atlanta special, which got the team into New York exactly on time, trying to find someone who didn't think Georgia would win Saturday's game. We haven't been successful, even the coach's star pupils in Mr. Gil Dobie's school of pessimism smile rather faintly and start talking about something else.

There have been confident football teams traveling long distances to meet a powerful team. But we doubt if there's ever been one like this one. It isn't over-confident, thanks to a gracious providence. The lads have a contagious self-assurance which conveys the impression that victory on Saturday will be theirs. They are all self-composed. They talk a little about the game but largely spend their time in mercenary games of chance, bull sessions, or talking to the four fair Georgia co-eds who are making the trip. And try to tell one of the young ladies that Georgia isn't going to overwhelm Yale. Just try and get started.

Team in Good Shape.
Each member of the squad is in good shape. Frank Dudley, the hard-tackling half back, turned up with a slight cold. But did dad, Mayor Lon Dudley, of Athens, stopped off in Washington, bought some medicine and he and Mrs. Dudley started working on this blonde lad who provides such breath taking, beautiful interference and who hits his man like several tons of extra heavy brick. Cree Stelling, the big, husky tackle, has a slightly lame leg, but Trainer Jones has attended to that. And out of the entire squad of 32 men, those are the only injuries requiring attention.

The squad boarded the train last night at Athens, with the entire populace down to see the boys off. A welcoming committee, consisting of Harold Hirsch, a loyal Georgia supporter, who goes everywhere with the team—Mrs. Hirsch, Ed Danforth, of the Journal, and this correspondent, boarded the train in Athens and welcomed the boys on board the train at Athens. The bunch was up early, breakfasted early and then spread itself out over the country side near Rich-

No Tickets Left For Army-Irish Classic

New York, October 11.—(United News.)—There will be no public sale of tickets for the Notre Dame-Army football game to be held at the Yankee stadium November 10, according to announcement received from Ed Barrow, secretary and business manager of the New York Yankees.

The entire seating allotment of the stadium for this game has been taken up by the two institutions. This is the fourth year in succession that the Army-Notre Dame game has been a complete "sell out."

The capacity for the contest this year will be more than 10,000 in excess of last year's record crowd of 76,000.

GEORGIA RATS PLAY 2 GAMES LAST OF WEEK

BY BOB SHERROD.
Athens, Ga., October 11.—(Special.) While the big Bulldogs are in New Haven, the Georgia Bulldogs will meet two foes this week-end, playing Mercer at Louisville, Ga., Friday afternoon and Clemson at Anderson, S. C., Saturday, in their opening games of the season.

Twenty-seven freshmen left Thursday for the Mercer scrap and eight more are scheduled to hop off Friday for South Carolina. The Bulldogs have high hopes of bringing back two scalps. They showed great improvement in brush with the varsity during the past week, and Coach Gene Smith has two teams of about equal strength to throw in against the Junior Bears and Clemson, in addition to plenty of good reserve material.

A strong eleven to go against Mercer would be made up of Leathers, center; Mathews and Horton, guards; Woodland and Temple, tackles; Hamilton and Timmons, ends; Meli or Costa, quarterback; Patterson and Downs, halfbacks; Maddox, fullback, another team, equally as good to fire at Clemson, would be Mountford, center; Duncan and Bennett, guards; Lynn and Rose, tackles; Simms and Hill, Smith or Roberts, ends; Moran, quarterback; Gellis and Chandler, halves, and Revellor Profumo, fullback.

mond this morning to watch Al Smith's special—presidential special, some of the ardent Smith devotees rolled in—roll by bearing the man in the brown derby to Chattanooga. According to the consensus of opinion, Smith was at breakfast in the dining car when the special train passed by.

The rest of the day passed in uneventful fashion, the team retired early and proceeded tomorrow for New Haven and its final practice before another dash for a second victory over Yale in as many years. They have a good team to do it with and that laudable feat is very liable to be accomplished.

B.H.S., Fulton In Feature Game Today

Three Other Grid Battles on Prep Books for This Afternoon.

Eight fast prep teams will swing into action this afternoon, two elevens meeting in Decatur and two more clashing in Rome. The other four teams will play in Atlanta.

In the feature game of the local card this afternoon the Purple warriors of Boys' High will clash with the Fulton High gridders at Spiller field. This game will get under way at 2:30 o'clock. In the other game booked for Atlanta Commercial High will entertain the Douglasville boys on the Grant park grid in what promises to be a fast and exciting game.

B. H. S. Squad Crippled.
Boys' high will enter the battle in a badly crippled condition as most of the first string men are on the injured list. Among those suffering from injuries are Aske, Collier and DeLoach, guards; Miller and Katz, ends; Bridges and Ellerbe, centers; Elliott, Harper, McCulley and Donehue are the backfield men that are sure not to see action. Elliot Haas, halfback, has been lost to the team for the entire season. The strong reserve strength of the Purple is the only factor to keep them in the running. The starting lineup will probably include the following: Nash and McWhorter, ends; Winn and J. Davis, tackles; Branch and Allen, guards; Rhodes, center; Howard, quarterback; Davis and Bluestein, halfbacks, and Avery, fullback.

Coach Hammack, of Fulton High, on the other hand, says that his squad is in perfect condition and is ready to hand Boys' High a few surprises. The lineup for the game will probably be as follows: Conyers and Harrison, ends; Bidwell and Anderson, tackles; Rook and Reeves, guards; Courtney, center; Roberts, quarterback; Newcomer and Lettwich, halfbacks, and Wilson, fullback.

The two out-of-town games will see Marist at Rome playing the strong Darlington High eleven and Decatur facing Griffin on the Decatur field. Both Decatur and Marist should have it rather easy this afternoon although the visiting teams are reported to be very strong and capable of staging a good fight.

Texas U. Leaves For Vandy Game

Austin, Texas, October 11.—(AP)—A cautious football team representing the University of Texas not over-confident, but determined, will leave here Friday for Dallas to tie up with the Vanderbilt University squad in the annual state fair game Saturday. A week's hard practice ended today with signal practice a week in which the Longhorns have had time to ponder over Vanderbilt's victory over Colgate.

Longhorns draw some consolation from the fact that Aristand, who made such a showing in the Colgate game, is no new problem for the Texas squad. Aristand was with the Commodores last year when Texas won, 13 to 6.

HAWK-EYE-ING SPORTS

BY DICK HAWKINS.

Tech and Tulane.

THINGS BEGIN to look most interesting for the Golden Tornado of Tech when it hits the Gulf coast Saturday for a game with the Greenvies of Tulane.

Year after year Tulane builds its team to a peak for the Tech game and year after year the publicity mediums call down their pet spirits and rig up a decisive victory for the Greenvies. Year after year we have read this heralding and year after year the impression has been that those New Orleans football players are a gang of scrappers, though sometimes rated a bit too high in the publicity odds.

Again the time has come for the visitations of the spirits and they are at hand. Bits of publicity come from the Greenvie institution to the effect that the Tulane line is the greatest since the days of the great Peggy Flounroy. That the backs cannot be stopped and that "the line can take care of its opponents," as stated by a correspondent to Edward Friend Danforth of the opposition.

In this connection allow us to ask just a few friendly questions of nobody in particular. Just what is meant by "taking care" of an opposing lineman probably is open to argument, but if the usual meaning is attached to this phrase, let's wonder for a minute who will take care of Mr. Speer. Who will take care of Mr. Watkins, Mr. Thrash, Mr. Maree, Mr. Drennon, Mr. Westbrook, Captain Pund and several other important stones in Mr. Fincher's great wall of China? Mr. Waddy is a bit difficult to take care of and Mr. Jones was certainly neglected in this respect Saturday when he played against the Cadets of V. M. I.

The fame of New Orleans as a city of hospitality has been spread from one end of this nation to the other and the thing those folks do best down there is "take care" of visitors, but ordinarily visitors do not object to being taken care of. It may be different on the gridiron Saturday.

We have no desire to belittle the Tulane football team nor to criticize its followers for enthusiasm which prompts them to predict in capital letters that the Greenvies will score 50 points against Tech Saturday. Such loyalty is highly commendable, even though in this particular case good judgment seems to be slightly overseasoned with the pepper of enthusiasm.

Those who believe that Georgia Tech will run unbridled over the Greenvies probably are as far wrong as those of New Orleans who believe the reverse will be true. Tech will win from Tulane, but it will be no slaughter.

The margin of difference between the two teams should lie in the forward wall, with a slight advantage behind the line in the matter of reserve material. The Greenvies have seen their backs gallop through the opposition this year with all the abandon of a youthful lamb playing at nine-pins on the proverbial green, and undoubtedly those backs can gambol expertly and rapidly when their line clears the trash from the gambling green.

That line will have some trouble in clearing a lot of golden obstructions from the pathway of those backs Saturday. If one Tech line fails to stem the tide another can be thrown in, and so on until sundown tinges the golden jerseys with autumnal brown.

And Tech's offensive. Against V. M. I. it was there in strength but not in polish. Will Coach Alex have it burnished for Tulane? Perhaps there will be a rough spot or two, but it will not stick and stop as it did against the Cadets.

No, the football hospitality of Tulane is not likely to be equal to the task of "taking care" of a Golden Tornado.

WE PITY THE CLERKS

They Are Returning Money for Tickets to Games Never Played—Yankees Ask for Wrist Watches

New York, October 11.—(AP)—The world series was over today for everyone concerned except the business office of the Yankees. Clerks in the counting house of the world champions will be busy for weeks mailing checks to ticket holders for the unplayed sixth game.

The purchase of box and reserve seats for the game that would have been played in New York if the Cardinals had made it necessary will have their money refunded by sending their tickets in by registered mail.

The club will have to refund $200,000. Last year when the refund was made on the fifth game tickets, $170,000 was returned. The tickets began to arrive at the baseball offices today. Secretary E. G. Barrow reported "several bushels" already on hand. The rush will be over in about three weeks but the task will not be completed until the end of the year. If last year's experience may be regarded as typical.

Members of the world champion Yankees have asked that their official emblems of supremacy be wrist watches and in accordance with custom Baseball Commissioner Landis will present each player of the winning team with a watch, in addition to their checks. The watches will be purchased from the share of receipts set aside for the commissioner. In other years rings, watches and charms have been agreed upon.

Bob Shawkey, former Yankee pitcher, now with Montreal in the International league, is in New York on his way to the Pacific coast to join Ty Cobb and other players in a tour of Japan. It was understood that several major league players wished to join Cobb on the invasion of the Orient but ran into the rule forbidding major league players after October.

Announcement was made today at the Yankees baseball offices that there will be no public sale for the Army-Notre Dame football game at the Yankee stadium November 10. The Notre Dame and Army organizations have taken all the tickets.

Winston Salem Wins Initial Game, 6 to 4

Winston-Salem, N. C., October 11.—(AP)—The Winston-Salem polo club won the first of a two-game series from Fort Oglethorpe here this afternoon in a brilliant riding duel by the score of 6 to 4.

Two quick goals in the last chukker by Ed Darr proved the winning margin and broke a tied score. Lieutenant Ireland and Captain Cheeves featured for Fort Oglethorpe while Jim and Bob Hanes and Phine Horton played well for Winston-Salem. The teams meet again Saturday.

Yale Forced To Leave Off Heavy Work

Nothing But Light Sessions Held by Eli Coach; Team in Ragged Shape.

New Haven, Conn., October 11.—(AP)—Yale will face the strong Georgia eleven Saturday with a squad that has had but little practice as a unit this week. Since the Maine game last week, Yale has had nearly all the first string men either in the infirmary with severe colds or on the sidelines with injuries. Scrimmage sessions had been planned for at least three days this week but with the lack of a varsity squad as a unit Coach Mal Stevens had to forego the heavy workouts and content himself with signal drills and to polishing up his punting and passing.

No Scrimmages.
With the Yale game due in another day, Stevens has had no chance to put the Eli gridders as a unit through even one session of scrimmage. There is little likelihood that any heavy workout will be given the squad before they line up against the veteran Georgia eleven. This almost same Georgia lineup was the only team that chalked up a defeat against Yale last season, when they won by the score of 14 to 10. In the Maine game last Saturday, Yale showed no real snap and pep as a fighting unit and plainly showed the necessity of more team work. Since last week Johnny Hoben, the accurate passing quarterback, has been out of the game with a pulled tendon in his leg and will not be in the lineup Saturday.

It is thought probable that the regular varsity squad will face the Georgia eleven with the exception of Hoben. Ellis, who has replaced the pilot position of Hoben, is a sprinter and while he is an excellent broken field runner, he lacks the accurate passing eye of Hoben.

Only Light Session.
Today was the first time this week that Coach Stevens had any semblance of his first string men out for a practice session. He did not attempt any heavy workout, however, fearing any further injuries to his crippled eleven. He put the team composed of McEwen and Oldt at end, Marting and Eddy, tackles; Miner and Spill, guards; Charlesworth, center; Ellis, quarterback; Decker and Loud, backs, and Hubbard, fullback, through a light signal drill and then an hour's workout at passing and kicking. Oldt, who is the best punter developed so far this season, has had to let up on kicking because of an injured foot.

TIGERS MEET KNOXVILLE HERE TODAY

Knoxville arrived late Thursday afternoon for the battle today with the Morris Brown Wolverines on the Morris Brown field at 2:30 o'clock. Morris Brown's recent defeat at the hands of the Maroon Tigers last Saturday enabled the coaching staff to see the weak spots and it is expected that a different machine will start against the invaders this afternoon.

Tyler, at quarter, has greatly improved. In scrimmage Wednesday he was running the first team smoothly and gained almost all will against the reserves using Knoxville formations. Coach Canady predicts a hard game and states that Knoxville will have no easy time in sending the locals to their second straight conference defeat of the year. Should the Wolverines lose today's game they will practically be out of the running for conference honors.

MOREHOUSE PLAYS FORT BENNING TODAY.

Morehouse college will meet the Twenty-fourth infantry today at 2:30 o'clock on the Morehouse athletic field. This non-conference struggle will be a severe test for the Maroon eleven for their invasion of the east next week.

Fort Benning defeated Clark university in the season's opener here and is sending the same squad against the Harvey machine. Morehouse will be fighting to keep its slate clean, as the team looks to be the best one so far that has represented the school in the last three years. Both teams are in the pink of condition for the fray and a huge crowd is expected to see the game.

Duke '11' Arrives For Battle Today

Boston, October 11.—(AP)—Boston college was ready today for its contest tomorrow afternoon with the Duke university football team of Durham, N. C., the "Blue Devils" arrived here tonight under Coach "Jimmie" Delart, former Pittsburgh star, with their first string lineup intact.

It will be a battle of backfield stars tomorrow with Buie, Jankowski and Murray leading the attack of the southerners and Creedon and Weston doing the majority of the ball totting for Coach Joe McKenney's Bostonians.

All week the Maroon and Gold team has been drilling to combat the passing attack of the visitors.

GEORGE MUSE CLOTHING CO.

Going into—

Muse's to buy a hat, a suit of clothes, or a pair of shoes is, to most of Atlanta, the natural thing to do.

That wise habit started some 49 years ago, when Mr. George Muse opened this store on Whitehall. Atlanta came to this first "opening" in horse-cars, in carriages, on horseback, and a-foot--

In those days advertising had not developed into the service it is today--word of a man or a business traveled slowly--from friend to friend. Yet it wasn't long before the pine box conversations throughout Georgia and neighboring states told how George Muse said "a thing is worth what it is worth--no more, no less."

"Changing a $10 bill at a bank, you do not expect $11, and you will not accept $9."

"Money is simply exchange--so is good merchandise."

"The one must be worth the other."

So started this store--so has Muse's grown.

BY JOHN P. BOUGHAN.

Associated Press Market Editor.

Chicago, October 11.—(AP)—Higher prices for wheat today resulted largely from snowfalls and freezing temperatures over the Canadian prairie territory as well. Drought complaints from the southwest were also a bulliss factor, and there were indications that the winter wheat acreage of the United States is to show decided curtailment.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm, 1-2c and 5-8c to 7-8c net higher, with corn 1-4c to 5-8c up, oats unchanged to 1-8 to 1-4c off, and provisions varying from 15c decline to a rise of 17c.

Pre-bid evening-up of accounts

tended northwest, but the market emphasized the upward trend of the wheat market, and so likewise did what India, which is usually an exporting country, has contracted for 10,000 tons of Argentine wheat to be shipped this month. In addition,

Brews has received that 500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat had been bought today for the Orient.

The market effect of stormy weather

northwest, too, was heightened by a forecast that unfavorable conditions

would continue. Such conditions, it was asserted, would be likely to interfere with the crop movement, and perhaps cause some damage to wheat quality.

Official announcement today that fall sowing of wheat has been practically suspended throughout the western two-thirds of Kansas gave special point to pessimistic complaints of drought in various winter wheat sections. In this connection, a leading firm here had reports from grain dealer

that the crop in Nebraska and Kansas show 20 to 30 per cent reduction of winter wheat acreage. Indiana 20 per cent, Illinois 6 per cent, Oklahoma 5 per cent, Texas 1 per cent, and Kansas and Nebraska 3 to 5 per cent.

However, if rain received in time

these figures are likely to change.

Upturns in the price of corn were associated with a forecast of lowest temperatures in 2 southern states. It was expected that the weather would

snow tomorrow in parts of Nebraska

and the Dakotas. Fears were expressed that movement of new corn

might be delayed. Meanwhile, export sales of 125,000 bushels today were noted, and old corn here was in good demand, especially white, which commanded 3c to 4c in a bushel advance.

Oats trade was light, and the market

kept within narrow limits.

Provisions selective trading, reflecting an upward trend of hog value.

NEW YORK, October 11.—(P)—A disposition to lighten commitments

over the holiday turned the bond

market irregular today, although the hardening price tendency apparent

yesterday was carried over into this morning's session.

Activity again centered in convertible

speculative issues. Barnard's with warrants made a fair gain then

lost it while the rest of the market

extended their gain by a point. Under

Copper 7s were heavily sold and yielded more than a point, while Ansonic 7s advanced more than a point.

Pressed Steel Car 5s sold

down about 3 points.

Trails followed divergent trends.

Central of New Jersey 5s, Michigan

Central 5s, and Seaboard All-Florida

4s, made gains of more than 10 points. Atchafalaya General 4s gained 14 points, while the convertible

4s lost 4 points. Central Pacific

Short Line 4s, Rio Grande and Western refunding 5s, and Missouri Pacific

4s were among a number of rails

encountering selling pressure.

Undertrials were generally quiet.

East Cuba Sugar 7s fell nearly 6 points to a new low at 70, reflecting

the drop in sugar stocks on the stock market. Kayser 5s fell more than 2 points. National Radiator rallied about 2 points and Loew's 6s with warrants sold nearly a point higher.

In the utilities, Brooklyn Union Gas

5s gained 5 points. Others were quiet.

Republic of Peru 6s were a feature of the down list, improving fraction-

ally in a heavy turnover. Pirelli Co.

RADIO-ING THE AIR WAVES

BY THE DIAL TWISTER.

Behind the words, "The Show Must Go On," the unwritten law of the circus, lies a wealth of anecdote of the seemingly unsurmountable obstacles that have been passed in order that the public might not be disappointed.

"Uncle Bob" Sherwood, star of the saw-dust ring half a century ago, will regale his Dixies Circus audience with some of these experiences during the program to be broadcast through WSB and the NBC system tonight at 6:30 o'clock.

His stories will dispel the conception that the circus is solely a place of spangles and tinsel, of blaring bands and funny clowns. All this, he says, is merely veneer. A circus really fights constantly for its very life against adversity, accident, fire, flood and storm, that the promise on the billboards may be fulfilled: "Rain or Shine, the World's Greatest Show Will Positively Appear."

The musical background for this program includes the following numbers:

Dixie. Callopo. The NC-4. Callopo. Bigelow. Muttering Frits. Callopo. Looey. Billy Boy. Callopo. Brown. Bring the Wagon. Callopo. John. Callopo.

HOOVER IS WORKING ON EASTERN SPEECHES

Candidate Secludes Self for Careful Preparation of Addresses.

Washington, October 11.—(AP)—In the seclusion of his study Herbert Hoover worked today upon the speeches he is to make at Boston and New York on his visits there during the next two weeks.

The republican presidential candidate for the first time since he opened his personal headquarters on Massachusetts avenue let an entire week-day pass without putting in his appearance there.

While he was pondering the phraseology of the two addresses final arrangements were being made at his headquarters for his Boston trip. Accompanied by members of his family and personal staff and a corps of newspaper correspondents, the nominee will leave for the New England metropolis Sunday night at 11 o'clock.

Except for operating stops at Baltimore, West Philadelphia, New York and New Haven, Conn., his train will not pause until it reaches Springfield, Mass., on the following morning at 8:30 o'clock. It will remain 15 minutes there before proceeding to Worcester, where a 25-minute stop will be made.

Leaving Worcester at 10:30 o'clock, the next stop will be Newburyport, where the nominee will detain for an automobile ride of an hour and a half which will end at Boston common. There he will make a brief talk himself.

The candidate will spend the afternoon at the home of Governor Fuller and his party will leave Boston on the return trip shortly after his speech at the arena has been concluded. His train will make five operating stops on the return trip, at Providence, New Haven, New York, West Philadelphia and Baltimore. It will reach Washington about 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

While the republican candidate was mapping out his new speeches of the campaign, Dr. Hubert V. Hoot, chairman of the republican national committee, was speeding toward Chicago to see the president-elect.

With but little more than three weeks to go before the showdown of November 6, tonight also saw another campaign member, Secretary Mellon, come into action for a speech in behalf of Hoover over a national radio hookup. A little later in the week Senator William E. Borah, of Idaho, again will lose operating time in a swing down through the south.

Colonel Roosevelt Scores Tammany In Omaha Speech

Omaha, Neb., October 11.—(AP)—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., in a republican campaign address last night, scored Tammany hall as a "corrupt and sinister organization, of which Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York, is the bellwether."

Colonel Roosevelt, who devoted most of his address to the high tariff policies of the republican party, said the democrats are "straddling the tariff issue in an effort to win the support of both high protectionists and free traders."

Baptists Declare Carleton School Far Too Liberal

Minneapolis, October 11.—(AP)—Two years of controversy among Minnesota Baptists over Carleton College at Northfield, Minn., was brought to an end today by the decision of the Minnesota Baptist convention to sever affiliation with the institution at the close of the present school year.

The convention voted 172 to 135 last night for adoption of a minority report of a special committee which has been investigating charges of Dr. W. B. Riley, pastor of the First Baptist church, Minneapolis, that Carleton college is "too liberal an orthodox institution" and that it is "frankly liberal, with a tendency to unitarianism."

The majority report of the committee was that "the most serious charges against Carleton cannot be substantiated."

R. V. Pierce and C. W. Foley, of Minneapolis, in presenting the minority report, said:

"We are compelled to come to the conclusion that while there is in many ways a fine cultural and moral atmosphere at Carleton, the charge that the school is not orthodox, but has a tendency toward unitarianism, has been abundantly proven. In fact, frankly, admitted by those in authority."
